CARGO & LOGISTICS Summit

Building seamless delivery, point-to-point, across the region

Jointly Organised by

Time to move ahead

Cargo and logistics form the backbone of the supply chain but has been constantly disregarded and often orphaned by the powers that be. This prolonged negligence has resulted in the attendant costs rising exorbitantly – amounting to more than 50 per cent of the total logistics costs. Time is ripe for a renaissance to take place so as to transform Indian logistics into a globally competitive sector. At a policy level, there is an urgent need to make freight transportation more trade-friendly.

Dedicated EXIM and domestic freight policies can improve efficiency along the supply chain. The poor infrastructure setup in India has affected the industry severely in terms of increased time and costs. Cargo evacuation from ports to ICDs is still a tediously slow process.

Apart from connectivity, enhancing efficiency in logistics services calls for a serious thought. Services of professional third-party service providers are largely underutilised leading to a need for introspection by both the users and service providers on the scope and benefits. Last, but not the least, logistics services providers need to be updated with latest technological innovations and advancements. Although this is happening at a rapid pace, much more needs to be done.

This half-day conference will consist of four focused and highly structured panel discussions on the following topics:

Business Session One:

Tamil Nadu government's industrial policy and the emergence of industrial clusters in and around Madurai

Is the hinterland in and around Madurai well connected by rail, road to the nearest seaport?

With containerisation gaining traction, has Madurai witnessed the emergence of the eco system that facilitates container cargo

Are the cargo owners in and around Madurai tailoring their hinterland strategies to suit least cost and efficient options keeping sustainability in mind?

Business Session Two:

Can coastal shipping help Madurai trade to move their cargo in a cost effective manner

How reliant are rail and road transport to nearby gateway ports? What are the bottlenecks?

In terms of cargo movements, are the trade seeing any new ways to boost their supply chain

Are ports and terminals demonstrating customer friendly initiatives to support Madurai cargo owners?

Plenary Session:

The Central government has taken several initiatives in the past six years to tap India's vast coastline and waterways to support and facilitate logistics needs of the trade. But, has these initiatives really transformed the logistics sector and improved India's competitiveness on the global stage?

While the slowing global and Indian economy has cast a gloom all round, how is shipping in Southern India faring? Are things looking up for Southern India compared to the western part of the country?
